Created by Abbott Pattison, a Chicago sculptor serving as a visiting artist under a Rockefeller Grant, the two ton welded steel Iron Horse became an instant campus conversation piece when it was placed in the quadrangle of the Reed Residence Hall Complex in May 1954. It has since become the leading legend in modern University of Georgia folklore, if not the most noted in the history of the institution.

By all accounts, the Iron Horse was not well received at the time by its public. Some would say it was the style of the sculpture itself, considered avant garde at the time, that caused the controversy, while others would argue that the timing and location of the Iron Horse on campus created the student uproar. In any event, the Iron Horse was quickly and quietly removed from campus and secretly stored for safekeeping. Five years later, Jack Curtis, a former student, and L. C. Curtis, his father and university faculty member, convinced university officials that a pasture on their family farm in Scull Shoals, Georgia (just off State Highway 15, north of Greensboro, Georgia) would make an ideal home for the Iron Horse.

While there have been several attempts to return the Iron Horse to the campus, the most serious in 1990 when the University Council formally requested President Knapp to consider the possibility, it has been decided that the Iron Horse will remain pastured on the Curtis farm. A second piece of Mr. Pattison's work, a marble sculpture entitled "Mother and Child," stands at the southwest corner of the Fine Arts Auditorium in recognition of Mr. Pattison's work while at the university.

For many, the Iron Horse ranks only behind the Arch and the Bulldog as a University of Georgia symbol, depicting--depending on the viewer--anything from a biblical statement about the Iron Horse and its location, to images of the university's service mission, to the university's quest, in Don Quixote fashion, for excellence. One fact is clear: The Iron Horse has earned an honored spot in The University of Georgia history, a steadfast and unwavering icon for its university.

The University of Georgia

Office of the President

November 26, 1990

Dear Colleagues and Friends:

I am pleased to present the 1990 Fact Book of The University of Georgia. The Fact Book provides evidence of the University's progress toward excellence.

As you look through the information in this edition, you should take pride in what has been accomplished at The University of Georgia as a result of efforts by the entire University community. The University of Georgia took another step toward preeminence in 1989-90 and I am grateful to everyone who contributed to our success.

I look forward to continuing our efforts toward our objective of being one of the best public universities in the nation.

Sincerely,

Charles B Knapp

PREFACE AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1990's may be the most anticipated decade in the history of higher education, at least in terms of scholarly activity and attention directed at planning for the problems, opportunities, challenges, and issues which were envisioned to confront colleges and universities. For The University of Georgia, the decade opened with the highest enrollment in institutional history and with a cut in the state budget; with the university in its strongest, but some would argue its most precarious, position since its emergence as one of the nation's leading research institutions; and with new plans and strategies for moving the university even further into the forefront of regional, national, and international eminence. The University of Georgia Fact Book 1990 helps document where the university has been, where it is, and where it must go if it is to live up to its expectations for the 1990's. Like Fact Books before it, this 22nd edition serves not only as a chronicle of the university's accomplishments, but also as a tribute to the students, faculty, staff, and university friends who have contributed to the advancement of The University of Georgia.

The information contained in Fact Book 1990 reflects the work of many people in the university community, and sincere appreciation is extended to those responsible for the noted accomplishments as well as those who helped record the facts. Special recognition must go Debbie Holliday for her tireless efforts in producing final copy; to Hazel Landers for her proofreading and editing; to Bill Kethley and Don Snell who managed once again to make computer software actually produce the desired hard copy; to Lemuella Logan and Deborah Shackelford for producing the computer graphics; to W. Robert Nix for his assistance with the cover; and to the University Printing Department staff for producing the final document. It is our hope that Fact Book 1990 will continue to serve the planning, review, and assessment needs of the university community in the new decade as well as it has in the past.

GENERAL INFORMATION

CHARTER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
PREAMBLE

As it is the distinguishing happiness of free governments that civil Order should be the Result of choice and not necessity, and the common wishes of the People become the Laws of the Land, their public prosperity and even existence very much depends upon suitably forming the minds and morals of their Citizens. When the Minds of people in general are viciously disposed and unprincipled and their Conduct disorderly, a free government will be attended with greater Confusions and with Evils more horrid than the wild, uncultivated State of Nature. It can only be happy where the public principles and Opinions are properly directed and their Manners regulated. This is an influence beyond the Stretch of Laws and punishments and can be claimed only by Religion and Education. It should therefore be among the first objects of those who wish well to the national prosperity to encourage and support the principles of Religion and morality, and early to place the youth under the forming hand of Society that by instruction they may be moulded to the love of Virtue and good Order. Sending them abroad to other countries for their education will not answer these purposes,—is too humiliating an acknowledgement of the Ignorance or Inferiority of our own, and will always be the Cause of so great foreign attachments that upon principles of policy it is not admissible. This Country in the times of our common danger and distress found such Security in the principles and abilities which wise regulations had before established in the minds of our countrymen, that our present happiness joined to pleasing prospects should conspire to make us feel ourselves under the strongest obligation to form the youth, the rising hope of our Land to render the like glorious and essential Services to our country. And whereas for the great purpose of internal education, divers allotments of land have, at different times, been made, particularly by the Legislature at their Session in July One thousand seven hundred and eighty three, and February One thousand seven hundred and eighty four, all of which may be comprehended and made the basis of one general, and complete establishment.

THEREFORE the Representatives of the Freemen of the State of Georgia in general Assembly met this twenty seventh day of January in the Year of our Lord One Thousand seven hundred and eighty five enact, ordain, and declare, and by these presents, it is ENACTED, ORDAINED and DECLARED.

Abraham Baldwin
President, University of Georgia
1785-1801

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The University of Georgia, a land-grant and sea-grant university, is the state's oldest, most comprehensive, most diversified institution of higher education. Its constituencies are numerous, and the scope of its programs in graduate, professional, and undergraduate education is the most extensive in the state. As Georgia's leading comprehensive institution of higher learning, the University has the following major purposes:

★ To disseminate knowledge through teaching in the academic disciplines and fields of professional study that make universities distinctive; related to this purpose are programs and other opportunities for students' intellectual, professional, and personal development.

★ To advance knowledge through research, scholarly inquiry, and the creative arts; related to both teaching and research is the conservation and enhancement of the state's and the nation's intellectual, cultural, and environmental heritage.

★ To provide service to the public through consultation, technical assistance, short-term instruction, training, and other opportunities for continued learning, growth, and development.

To fulfill its multiple purposes and commitments, The University of Georgia defines its instructional, research, and public service missions as broadly as possible, with an explicit commitment to excellence in all of its missions. Since the quest for knowledge is universal, a global perspective is necessary to provide students with educational opportunities consistent with the international dimensions of their future careers and personal lives.

Teaching

Traditionally, teaching is the essential mission of American universities. Through its thirteen colleges and schools, The University of Georgia offers programs of general, advanced, and specialized study in virtually all traditional academic disciplines and in various professional and applied fields. As a public, state-supported, land-grant and sea-grant institution, the University has a commitment (a) to excel in undergraduate, professional, and graduate instruction; (b) to offer programs of instruction in a comprehensive range of liberal, general, specialized, and international studies; and (c) to provide the facilities, resources, and environmental conditions that promote critical thinking and analytical problem-solving. If the University has a single, overriding reason for being, it is learning, a cooperative human endeavor that encompasses teaching, research, and service and that involves the entire University community.

The University's role and responsibilities in formal classroom instruction are complemented by co-curricular programs and activities that foster the personal, social, and intellectual development of its students and its other constituencies. The University offers programs and services related to housing, health, admissions, recreation, counseling, career placement, student organizations, and activities for minority and international students. Such activities, which contribute to the development of personal and interpersonal competence, enrich students' campus experiences and thereby help prepare them to lead useful, productive, and satisfying lives.

CONT'D: STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Research and Scholarship

As a major graduate/research institution, The University of Georgia engages in research and scholarly inquiry within most recognized fields of advanced or specialized study. To contribute to a better understanding of our world, to preserve our environmental heritage, and to educate and prepare future generations of scientists and scholars, the University uses its resources and expertise in the investigation of problems related to all areas of human endeavor. To preserve the intellectual and cultural heritages of the region and the nation, the University assumes responsibility for the preservation, maintenance, and expansion of collections in its libraries and museums. To advance knowledge through the arts, the University encourages and supports student and faculty creativity in music, drama, poetry, fiction, dance, and the visual arts. The University also encourages international communication and collaboration in research and other scholarly endeavors. The continuing vitality of the University's programs of instruction, with the many services to constituencies, depends upon this strong commitment to scholarship and to basic and applied research in diverse academic disciplines.

Public Service

The University's public service mission is a commitment to the citizens of Georgia and to the broader communities of the nation and the world. The University brings its scientific, scholarly, and technological expertise to bear on societal problem-solving, economic development, and cultural advancement. The University's cooperative extension, in-service, and continuing education programs help citizens to develop the knowledge and skills they need to improve their work, their personal lives, and their communities. Through its institutes, centers, and other service programs, the University provides professional and technical assistance to state and local governments, business corporations, small businesses, and civic or community organizations. And by supporting the involvement of individual faculty members in national and international organizations, the University assists others in solving problems of common concern to the nation and to humankind. In its service mission the University has many responsibilities for leadership in the formation and implementation of public policies that affect the quality of human life. The University thus strives to interpret and respond to political, economic, and technological developments in society.

* * * * *

"To teach, to serve, and to inquire into the nature of things" is the University's motto. The conservation and enhancement of the state's and the nation's intellectual, cultural, and environmental heritage is inherent in the advancement, dissemination, and application of knowledge and is essential to the University's role as an institution of higher learning. In keeping with its interdependent missions in instruction, research and scholarly inquiry, and public service, the University dedicates its resources and talents to cultural innovation and progress.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA PERSPECTIVE

Just after the close of the American Revolution, the Georgia legislature took a step that was to start another revolution--this one in higher education. In 1785, Georgia became the first state in the nation to grant a charter for a state-supported university, a decision setting the precedent whereby states would provide for the higher education of their citizens.

The infant university existed for sixteen years on paper only, without campus, money, faculty, or students. Finally in 1801 a site was selected for the campus, and the first few students began to trickle into the newly formed frontier town of Athens. That first year the faculty consisted only of the college president, Josiah Meigs. Classes were held in a primitive log structure while the university, then called Franklin College, waited for its first permanent building.

From such tenuous beginnings, The University of Georgia has grown to become a major teaching, research, and service institution with over 2,600 faculty and professional staff members, 13 colleges, and a physical plant serving more than 28,000 students. The campus, including forestry and agricultural areas, covers nearly 43,000 acres. In addition, off-campus centers and experiment stations carry university services to all parts of the state--directly affecting the lives of millions through continuing education, specialized institutes, and applied research.

From its original classical curriculum the university's scope and diversity of degree programs have grown dramatically. At the undergraduate level, the university provides an associate degree and 18 baccalaureate degrees with concentrations in 141 major fields. At the graduate level, it offers 25 master's degrees in 134 areas of concentration, 38 educational specialist degree programs, and doctoral degrees--Ph.D., Ed.D., D.M.A., and D.P.A.--in 90 areas. In addition, professional degree programs are available in law (JD), pharmacy (PHARM.D.), and veterinary medicine (DVM). The university's research programs combine to make it one of the twenty-five largest research institutions in the country: The largest research institution, in terms of research expenditures without a college of medicine and/or engineering.

The rich heritage of the tree-shaded campus of Franklin College, now the university's Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, has been preserved in spite of extensive campus expansion to provide the most modern of classroom and laboratory facilities. The arch at the campus entrance, the 1806 Old College structure which now houses administrative offices, and other early nineteenth-century buildings renovated for continuing use offer quiet tribute to Georgia's 200-year commitment to provide quality education for its citizens.

The most complete account of this institution's long and interesting history is T. G. Dyer's The University of Georgia: A Bicentennial History, 1785-1985. Several other studies provide insight into various periods of the university's history: E. M. Coulter, College Life in the Old South; A. L. Hull, A Historical Sketch of The University of Georgia; H. C. Tuck, Four Years at The University of Georgia, 1877-1881; and R. P. Brooks, The University of Georgia Under Sixteen Administrations, 1785-1955. F. N. Boney's Pictorial History of The University of Georgia, published during the university's Bicentennial, S. Abell's, The University of Georgia, a book of photographs commissioned by the Alumni Society in 1987, and F. N. Boney's A Walking Tour of The University of Georgia, issued in 1989 by The University of Georgia Press, provide additional insight, background and color to the university's history and traditions.

CHRONOLOGICAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Year		Year
1784	Legislature granted 40,000 acres and named Board of Trustees for University of Georgia	1866	(continued) State of Georgia received grant of land under Morrill Act of 1862
1785	Legislature adopted UGA charter	1869	AB curriculum was reduced from four to two years; junior and senior years became elective
1801	Franklin College of Arts and Sciences held first classes	1870	Master of Arts became an earned degree, based on a prescribed course of study on campus
1803	Demosthenian Society was founded	1872	By executive order, UGA was designated the state's land-grant institution
1804	First commencement exercises were held and first honorary degrees awarded		State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts opened for operation as a department of the university
1811	Trustees suspended institution for several months	1874	Medical College of Georgia at Augusta became Medical Department of UGA
1816	President Brown and other professors resigned under pressure from trustees, and the university was again dissolved until January 1, 1817	1878	Trustees adopted changes in degree programs, abandoning the elective in favor of a fixed curriculum for each program. Instead of one degree (AB) in Arts and Sciences, there would be three (Bachelor of Arts, with emphasis on Latin and Greek; Bachelor of Science, requiring only one classical language; Bachelor of Philosophy, stressing modern languages). Three degrees were possible in the Agricultural College: Bachelor of Agriculture, Bachelor of Engineering, Bachelor of Chemistry.
1820	Phi Kappa Society was founded by J. H. Lumpkin	1881	General Assembly abolished tuition fees for all students
1830	UGA began receiving a fixed annual appropriation as support from the state	1883	Bachelor of Philosophy degree was discontinued
1833	Botanical Garden was founded	1885	School of Technology in Atlanta was established as a branch of UGA
1834	Alumni Society was organized	1888	Trustees adopted resolution for establishment of Experiment Station
1842	Legislature stopped providing annual appropriation; UGA remained "private in support and public in control" until 1875	1889	Board of Trustees was reorganized to include one member from each congressional district, two from Athens, and four from the state at large
1854	William Terrell gave university $20,000 to establish a department of agriculture	1891	State Normal School was established at Athens as a branch of UGA; became Georgia State Teachers College in 1927
1859	Trustees accepted plan to expand and reorganize UGA into several schools (medical school, law school, agriculture school, engineering school) and authorized granting of the following degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Divinity, and Doctor of Laws. This was an effort to change UGA's status from a small classical college to a true university.	1892	Intercollegiate athletics were introduced to university; first football game was against Auburn
	Lumpkin Law School was established
1864-66	University was closed during Civil War
1866	First social fraternity (Sigma Alpha Epsilon) was organized
	Trustees authorized establishment of School of Civil Engineering

SEAL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

The University of Georgia seal was adapted in 1801 from the State Seal of Georgia. Like the state seal, it features a three-column arch emblematic of the Constitution supported by the three branches of government (legislative, judicial, and executive). The words Wisdom, Justice, and Moderation are engraved on a wreath draped around the three columns. A soldier stands at attention under the arch as a reminder of the military's role in defending the Constitution. The university seal, whose colors are red and black, bears the motto, et docere et rerum exquirere causas ("to teach and to inquire into the causes of things"). The motto is believed to have been chosen by Josiah Meigs, president of The University of Georgia 1801-1810.

FLAG OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Designed in 1980 by Charles O. Johnson, The University of Georgia flag features the university arch and thirteen white stars against a red background with rectangular black borders. The arch, which has long been a symbol of the university, is the natural centerpiece for the flag. A black, three-columned, wrought-iron arch modeled after the one on the State of Georgia Seal of 1799 has marked the entrance to the campus since 1858. The stars represent the thirteen schools and colleges of the university, as well as the thirteen original American colonies. The first flag (5 x 8 feet) was unfurled on September 20, 1980, during the Georgia-Clemson football game.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
ALMA MATER

(Verses)

From the hills of Georgia's northland
Beams thy noble brow,
And the sons of Georgia rising
Pledge with sacred vow.

'Neath the pine trees' stately shadow
Spread thy riches rare.
And thy sons, dear Alma Mater,
Will thy treasures share.

And thy daughters proudly join thee,
Take their rightful place,
Side by side into the future,
Equal dreams embrace.

Through the ages, Alma Mater,
Men will look to thee;
Thou the fairest of the Southland,
Georgia's Varsity.

(Chorus)

Alma Mater, thee we'll honor,
True and loyal be,
Ever crowned with praise and glory,
Georgia, hail to thee.

Tune: "Annie Lisle" by H.S. Thompson (c. 1870)

Arrangements: Hugh Hodgson, class of 1915; Thomas Y. Wallace, B.M. '70, M.F.A. '72

Lyrics: J.B. Wright, Jr., Class of 1912; Third verse by Gail Carter Dendy, B.A. '74, M.A. '81

Note: In response to a request by the University Council for more inclusionary language in the Alma Mater, the third verse was added in 1990.

STUDENT RELATED INFORMATION

THE DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS is responsible for student services, many educational support services and programs, and learning experiences gained through out-of-classroom activities. From initial high school contact through college graduation and placement, Student Affairs interacts with students through organized services and programs to create a campus responsive to individual student needs. Twelve departments reporting to the Vice President for Student Affairs are made up of over 700 staff equivalents and are responsible for over twenty percent of the square footage of the main campus.

The Undergraduate Admissions Office spearheads student recruitment, application processing, and the university's orientation program for new students. This office also reviews applications for readmission and determines transfer credit for courses taken at other institutions.

The Career Planning and Placement Office conducts activities supporting career planning, career development, cooperative education programs, internships, student employment, and career placement. Students interested in employment while attending classes are also served by this department. These activities are enhanced through on-campus recruiting, job listings, skills seminars, job search workshops, special career days, and other services intended to assist students in moving from the campus way of life to the world of work. In addition, this department assists students who are interested in continuing their education upon graduation from The University of Georgia.

The Counseling and Testing Center provides comprehensive counseling and testing services to the university community. Major areas of service include individual and group counseling, structured group programs, career exploration, learning skills, outreach programs, nontraditional student services, consultation, training, administration of national and university-wide testing programs, and test-scoring services.

The Office of Student Financial Aid determines eligibility for aid awarded by the university and records aid received by students from other sources. The office coordinates all awards in student financial aid packaging to prevent over-awards and reports to the Board of Regents, the federal government, and university officials all aid awarded to students attending the university.

The University Health Service is a comprehensive primary healthcare facility serving students and their spouses. It is fully accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. Services offered include general medical care, mental health care, and urgent care. Specialty clinics such as a women's clinic and dental clinic are also available. Health education and health counseling on a variety of topics are offered throughout the year.

The Department of University Housing provides on-campus residence hall and family housing accommodations for students. In addition, a variety of social, educational, and recreational programs are provided to promote individual growth and development. The department also serves as a liaison between the university and those fraternity and sorority corporations with houses on university property.

The Office of International Services and Programs provides services, programs, and activities for foreign students. The staff helps with pre-arrival information, orientation, and advising and counseling on immigration matters, finances, adjustment concerns, and travel plans. Other activities include a weekly International Coffee Hour; the Campus Friend, Community Friend, and Host Family programs; and an International Week.

The Office of Judicial Programs administers the university judicial system, promotes academic honesty programs, consults with faculty, staff, and students about various problems, and develops or assists with in-service education programs. Office staff includes a Student Affairs Legal Advisor who is available for student consultation and who works on special projects for the division.

CONT'D: THE DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Office of Minority Services and Programs provides leadership and direction in the area of minority student affairs by facilitating and coordinating outreach, cultural, and support programs for minority students; contributes to the enhancement of multi-cultural dimensions of the university community; serves as a resource for the university community on minority related issues; and guides the development of the African-American Cultural Center.

The Office of the Registrar is responsible for the quarterly registration process and for processing schedule changes, providing transcripts, and maintaining permanent records. The Registrar also publishes a quarterly schedule of classes, assists with graduation, determines residency status, and administers the program of benefits for veterans.

The Department of Student Activities is responsible for student clubs and organizations, the University Union, the yearbook, the radio station, fraternity and sorority affairs, leadership development, Communiversity, Legion Pool, Lake Herrick, outdoor recreation and intramurals, and the processing of student identification cards. The department is housed in the Tate Student Center and Memorial Hall.

The Student Information Systems Department provides computer-based services to the Office of Student Affairs by developing, programming, and helping to implement computer systems for various administrative services.

The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs administers directly many services or programs, in addition to supervising the twelve departments. University withdrawals, all course withdrawals after the mid-term, division publications, liaison for student religious affairs, Regents' Test coordination, the National Student Exchange, Office of Disability Services, student affairs research, staff development, and budget coordination all originate from this office.

RESEARCH, SERVICE, AND
AUXILIARY AND ADMINISTRATIVE UNITS

THE AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS seek and verify new knowledge through research in the many fields related to agriculture. There are three main stations at Athens, Griffin, and Tifton; six branch stations at Attapulgus, Blairsville, Calhoun, Eatonton, Midville and Plains. Research projects are conducted in agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal and dairy science, entomology, food science and technology, forest resources, home economics, horticulture, plant pathology, and poultry science.

AUXILIARY SERVICES, including the University Bookstore, Campus Transit System, Food Services, University Golf Course, University Printing, University Vending, and University Parking Services, are supported by income generated from the sale of merchandise and services to students, faculty, and staff. Financially self-supporting, these auxiliary units are related to the educational objectives of the university.

Campus Transit System operates a fleet of 32 buses for students and staff. Service is provided on six routes from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and two buses provide night service from 6:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m. Monday through Friday. Van service for handicapped students unable to use regularly-scheduled buses is provided during the week. Charter bus service is available for educationally-related purposes.

University Bookstore is a retail facility specializing in textbooks, general books, specialized and general school supplies, personal computers, UGA clothing and novelties, and convenience items. Books not carried in stock may be procured through special order.

University Food Services seeks to satisfy the food service needs of students, faculty, and staff with a variety of wholesome foods served at reasonable prices. Five dining facilities--Bolton Hall, Snelling Hall, Oglethorpe Hall, Tate Center, and Botanical Garden--are maintained by University Food Services for its customers. McWhorter Dining Hall serves participants in athletic programs. The University Food Services also provides banquet services and catering from the Tate Center facility.

University Golf Course is a teaching and recreational facility available to students, faculty, staff, alumni, and their dependents, plus conferees. The 18-hole championship course, designed by Robert Trent Jones, also includes driving range, putting greens, and chipping green. "Golfing weather" hours are Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. until sundown, and weekends and holidays from 7:30 a.m. until sundown. The Pro Shop carries a complete line of golfing equipment and supplies.

University Printing is designed and equipped to provide quality offset printing services for all offices and departments of the university. Basic services include design assistance and consultation, phototypesetting (either from manuscript or from word processing disk), paste-up, negative and plate work, press work, and bindery/finishing work. The plant is staffed and equipped to produce stationery, business cards, office forms, brochures, booklets, programs, posters, journals, and perfect-bound books. A mix of several sizes and types of presses enables University Printing to produce everything from simple single-color jobs to sophisticated four-color process work in whatever quantity is required.

University Vending locates vending machines throughout campus for the benefit of students, faculty, and staff. The equipment and service are operated and maintained by private contractors. In addition to food and beverage vending, the program includes coin-operated telephones and change machines.

University Parking Services provides specified parking lots for commuter students, campus housing residents, graduate students, faculty, staff, and handicapped persons. In addition to the lots for registered vehicles, a high-rise parking deck next to the Georgia Center for Continuing Education and several pay-by-the-hour lots in heavy traffic areas of campus are provided for visitors and to accommodate university personnel for short periods of time.

THE HIMAN BROWN AUDIO PRODUCTION CENTER was established in 1988 as part of the College of Journalism and Mass Communication and named in honor of the man whose radio mystery and adventure shows earned him the title "Mr. Radio Drama." The Center is devoted to education and building a future for radio drama and audio in general. Its responsibilities include scholarships; curriculum development; grant procurement; production of new shows and workshops. It also functions as an archival depository for old and new shows and a distribution center for audio educational material for middle schools and high schools.

THE BUREAU OF EDUCATIONAL SERVICES (previously the Bureau of Educational Studies and Field Services) provides educational consultants and technical assistance as requested by the public schools of Georgia, the region, other colleges, and the State Department of Education. The services of the bureau are available on a continuing basis to local school boards and other educational agencies for analyzing problems, improving educational practices, and continually updating the knowledge and skills of administrative, supervisory, and teaching personnel.

THE CENTER FOR ADVANCED ULTRASTRUCTURAL RESEARCH serves the University System by providing a repository of facilities and expertise to assist in pursuing and achieving research and instructional needs employing electron optical systems. The center reports to the Dean of the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences and also serves the private sector.

THE CENTER FOR APPLIED ISOTOPE STUDIES, an applied research group under the direct supervision of the Office of the Vice President for Research, is located in the university's Research Park in the Center for Applied Isotope Studies Building. The primary activities of the center are to assist the academic, scientific, and industrial communities in applied and basic research. Emphasis is placed on applied research, assisted by a unique array of nuclear analytical tools, directed toward the resolution of critical contemporary problems. A service laboratory is maintained for age dating, radiometric analyses, and stable isotope measurements.

THE CENTER FOR ARCHAEOLOGICAL SCIENCES promotes and coordinates research between the humanities--archaeology, anthropology, and art history--and the sciences--geology, geochemistry, chemistry, and biology. The center coordinates the research of university scholars in fields relating to archaeology and art history, facilitates collaboration with experts outside the university, serves as a resource center of laboratory equipment and technical support for archaeologists, art historians, and museums worldwide, and coordinates interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate degree programs in the archaeological sciences.

THE CENTER FOR ASIAN STUDIES exists to nurture and guide academic programs and exchanges on Asia for students, faculty and appropriate staff members. While these programs focus on language and area studies, they also involve students and faculty from law, business, agriculture, education, journalism, veterinary medicine, as well as the arts and sciences. Specific purposes and programs focus on 1) curriculum planning, review, and development in modern Asian languages and related area studies; 2) a speakers' and visitors' program of distinguished Asianists to address and exchange ideas with students, faculty and community on Asian topics; 3) student and faculty exchange agreements such as the ones recently concluded with Tunghai University in Taiwan, Yokohama University in Japan and the established one at Kagoshima University in Japan; 4) development of library and related instructional and research facilities necessary for a credible academic program in Asian studies; 5) planning and application for external funding for Asian Studies at UGA; and 6) research and research collaboration on East Asia.

THE CENTER FOR AUDIT RESEARCH within the School of Accounting seeks to stimulate a continuing commitment to audit research that has practical implications. In the broad context of governmental, internal, and financial statement auditing, the center encourages practitioners and academicians jointly to explore implementation issues of audit research, and it disseminates research ideas and findings.

THE CENTER FOR BIOLOGICAL RESOURCE RECOVERY is comprised of investigators from the departments of biochemistry, botany, microbiology, and food science at the university and from the Richard B. Russell Agricultural Research Center. These investigators have in common an interest in the ecology, physiology, biochemistry and genetics of microorganisms. The emphasis is on those microorganisms that are ecologically important and can be used in agricultural and industrial processes for the degradation of cellulose, hemicellulose, and lignin and for the fermentation of the biodegradation products to fuel and industrial feed-stock chemicals.

THE CENTER FOR COMPUTATIONAL QUANTUM CHEMISTRY seeks to develop theoretical and computational methods through mathematical models for describing and understanding the movement and function of subatomic particles in molecules and to apply the theoretical methods to significant problems of broad chemical interest. Areas of current special concern include: (1) organosilicon chemistry, specifically the prediction and understanding of the properties of silicon analogs of common hydrocarbon compounds; (2) the potential energy hypersurfaces that govern elementary gas-phase chemical reactions, particularly those important in combustion; (3) new high energy density molecular systems; (4) fundamental problems in physical organic chemistry involving, for example, carbenes and other biradical species and systems such as the [n] paracyclophanes; and (5) hydrogen bonding in systems such as the formic acid dimer and the guanine-cytosine base pair.

THE CENTER FOR EAST-WEST TRADE POLICY is an interdisciplinary and inter-university research, teaching, and service project designed to promote more informed trade policy and further national and state economic interests. Its primary function is to study and produce policy-relevant research on U.S. and Western alliance trade policy vis-à-vis communist and post-communist countries, most importantly the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, and the People's Republic of China. The center encourages and coordinates collaborative research, teaching, and service-related activities within the university, the state, the nation, and overseas.

THE CENTER FOR ECONOMIC EDUCATION, an ongoing program of the Department of Social Science Education, with assistance from the College of Business Administration, exists to increase the level of economic literacy in Georgia through the improvement of economics instruction in Georgia schools. The center provides in-service teacher training, develops instructional materials, and encourages innovation in economics education.

THE CENTER FOR EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY provides a variety of audio-visual and computer related services to faculty, students, and staff in the College of Education. In addition the center works jointly with the university's Computing & Networking Services in the supervision and scheduling of two computer laboratories for the entire university community. Among the services offered are a state-wide electronic bulletin board, audio/visual equipment check-out, media production, graphics assistance, desk-top publishing, laminating, laser printing, and computer and electronic technical support.

THE CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL BIOTECHNOLOGY, a part of the Institute of Ecology, is made up of an integrated team of scientists, staff, and graduate students. The center has as major objectives to address basic questions in microbial ecology via a series of laboratory, field and modeling studies, to develop protocols for risk assessment and product advisement using bioengineered organisms, and to develop long-term linkages between university researchers and industrial users of bioengineered microbes and products.

THE CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION serves as an initiating and coordinating unit of the College of Education for the development and research of innovative and experimental education programs from grades kindergarten through senior high school and university-level training programs. Currently, the Program for School Improvement, with a focus on the empowerment of teachers, is the one functioning program of the center. A second program under development will identify and develop model elementary and secondary school programs across the state and nationwide for research and demonstration.

THE CENTER FOR FAMILY RESEARCH, a component of the Institute for Behavioral Research located in Barrow Hall, seeks to promote the understanding of the family through research conducted by interdisciplinary teams of scientists. An emphasis is placed upon data-based research and collaboration.

THE CENTER FOR GLOBAL POLICY STUDIES explores and develops interdisciplinary and interprofessional programs of instruction, research, and service on a range of global issues. It administers undergraduate and graduate certificate programs in global policy studies; sponsors instructional and research-oriented symposia, lectures, and publications; and serves as a focal point for those with an interest in foreign languages and international studies both inside and outside the university.

THE CENTER FOR INSURANCE EDUCATION AND RESEARCH is designed to conduct research on questions of short- and long-term interest to the insurance community and to provide periodic seminars and conferences on issues facing that industry. The center also sponsors continuing education programs for the insurance industry in Georgia and gives financial support to undergraduate and graduate students, as well as faculty of risk management and insurance.

THE CENTER FOR LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES coordinates interdisciplinary research, curriculum offerings, and public programs which deal with Latin America. Through colloquia, conferences, and an undergraduate certificate program, the center seeks to bring together faculty from all colleges and schools in the university currently engaged in work related to this region of the world. The center is the primary entity on campus involved in planning for the Colombian Quincentenary.

THE CENTER FOR MANAGEMENT EXCELLENCE has as its overall goal managerial and organizational productivity increases for Georgia, the Southeast, and the nation through the improvement of human performance in organizations. Functioning as a part of the Department of Management, the center's overriding purpose is to focus on the human element in productivity and performance.

THE CENTER FOR MARKETING STUDIES, established in 1986, seeks to advance professional marketing education and to identify and develop new programs and methods which will better serve the marketing community's needs for education and information. The Master of Marketing Research Program, a nationally recognized graduate program within the College of Business Administration, is administered by the center. The center also works to maintain and strengthen relations with the business community.

THE CENTER FOR PLANT CELLULAR AND MOLECULAR BIOLOGY is designed to foster and support interactions between those members of The University of Georgia research community who share a common interest in molecular aspects of plant growth and development. While members of the center carry out individual research programs, the center provides a base for joint and cooperative projects. It also provides a cohesive, broadly based training program for those interested in the molecular aspects of plant science. In addition, the center sponsors a monthly seminar series; organizes an annual scientific retreat; assists in graduate student recruitment; and sponsors technical workshops.

THE CENTER FOR REMOTE SENSING AND MAPPING SCIENCE (CRMS) undertakes research and training in the fields of remote sensing, geographic information systems (GIS), photogrammetry, digital image processing, and computer graphics, particularly as applied to the physical and biological sciences. Typical research topics include quantitative methodologies for measuring soil erosion from agricultural lands by photogrammetric techniques, mapping environmental disturbances from aerial photographs and satellite images, development of integrated image processing/GIS software and advanced technologies for monitoring the earth's surface from digital image data. Close associations are maintained with remote sensing organizations and scientists in Canada, Europe, South America, and Asia. The CRMS provides technical assistance to universities and to local, state, and federal agencies.

THE CENTER FOR RESEARCH ON DEVIANCE AND BEHAVIORAL HEALTH is a part of the Institute for Behavioral Research. It supports and encourages interdisciplinary research activities concerning deviance, health, and the management of productivity problems in the workplace. Its staff, consisting of faculty, postdoctoral fellows, staff, and graduate students from a variety of departments, assists investigators who are conducting research or seeking research funds from federal agencies and private foundations. Primary research topics of the center include alcoholism, psychiatric illness, drug abuse, children with psychiatric disorders, family violence, workplace management of alcohol and drug abuse problems, and the examination of criminal justice and other intervention system operations.

THE CENTER FOR METALLOENZYME STUDIES was established to encourage cooperative research to determine how vital metalloenzymes function and how they are synthesized and regulated. Through collaborative research, discussions and seminars, it is expected that enhanced knowledge will be generated about enzymes that catalyze life-supporting reactions such as nitrogen fixation, sulfur interconversions and hydrogen production. Use of the latest technologies and analytical equipment will enable the faculty of the center and its postdoctorate and graduate students to perform more critical experiments and to organize state-of-the-art courses in bioinorganic chemistry, biochemistry, enzymology, fermentation technology, and anaerobic techniques as applied to metalloenzyme production, structure and function.

THE CENTER FOR SIMULATIONAL PHYSICS functions as a center for research and training in simulational physics, with emphasis on the use of supercomputers. Because of this work, close interaction with the University Computing and Networking Services is maintained, and collaborative research programs with major institutions in the United States and Europe are developed. The center's staff consists of research and adjunct professors, visiting research scientists, and postdoctoral associates.

THE CHILD AND ADOLESCENT CLINIC, a service of the College of Education's Department of Special Education, provides file reviews and diagnostic assessments for children and adolescents from preschool through high school who may need special services. During a file review the clinic staff examines the individual's records to determine whether more assessment is needed and whether special education placement seems appropriate. The diagnostic assessment entails a two-day evaluation of the child's cognitive, language, social-emotional, and academic abilities. The information is used to help parents and teachers understand the individual's specific strengths and weaknesses and to develop recommendations for teaching and home management.

THE COMPLEX CARBOHYDRATE RESEARCH CENTER (CCRC), which includes a U.S. Department of Energy/National Science Foundation/U.S. Department of Agriculture Plant Science Center and a National Institutes of Health Resource Center for Biomedical Complex Carbohydrates, studies the structures and functions of the complex carbohydrates of plants, microbes, and animals. Scientists at the CCRC investigate the chemistry and the physiological, developmental, and molecular biology of complex carbohydrates having biological importance, using the most advanced analytical techniques, including mass spectrometry, nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectroscopy, computer modeling, artificial neural networks, tissue culture, and recombinant genetics. The CCRC provides analytical services to scientists, provides annual hands-on laboratory training courses, and develops computer software to assist the study of complex carbohydrates. The Complex Carbohydrate Structural Database and its search program, CarbBank, were written and developed by CCRC scientists under the direction of an international executive board and input from curators in 30 countries. The database currently contains approximately 4,000 structures and updates are issued semi-annually to subscribers. CCRC personnel are presently engaged in over 60 collaborations with scientists in North America, Europe, and Japan.

THE COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE is an educational service arm for the university, providing information and training to Georgia citizens. Staff members, representing The University of Georgia College of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and county government, present educational programs in agriculture, home economics, community and rural development, and 4-H and youth development. Programs are developed at the local level by county extension agents in response to needs articulated by local citizens and are research based.

The Rural Development Center, located at Tifton, is a unit of the Cooperative Extension Service. The program of the center is directed toward the realization of four principal objectives: agricultural and forest production efficiency, advanced marketing techniques and utilization of farm and forest commodities, comprehensive community development, and human resource training and development.

COSMIC, a NASA acronym for Computer Software Management and Information center, is a unit of the university which has been under contract to NASA since 1966 to distribute software developed with its funding. As part of NASA's Technology Utilization Network, COSMIC was created to be the central office to distribute software both back to NASA and other government agencies, and out to industry and the public. COSMIC currently offers 1200 programs in subject areas such as aerodynamics, artificial intelligence, structural and thermal analysis, image processing, and scientific visualization. In 1990, COSMIC opened its software marketing and distribution services to other U.S. organizations.

THE COUNSELING AND TESTING CENTER provides individual and group counseling for both personal and career concerns, a broad range of structured developmental groups, career development groups, consultation services and outreach programs, academic skill programs and counseling, and an extensive testing program. Support is also provided for specific populations through liaisons to non-traditional and minority students. A Career Information Center contains information on numerous careers and includes SIGI-PLUS, a computerized career decision-making program, and CASSI-GT, a computerized academic assistance program. Major student concerns addressed by the Counseling and Testing Center include anxiety, depression, career indecision, self-esteem issues, stress management, academic skill development, values clarification, grief resolution, sexual identity, and relationship issues. The center is one of the few pre-doctoral internship training sites in the state that is accredited by the American Psychological Association.

THE JAMES M. COX, JR. CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL MASS COMMUNICATION TRAINING AND RESEARCH serves to facilitate international mass communication training and research programs in which scholars from the United States and foreign countries, students, and mass communication professionals can cooperate. The center helps to coordinate efforts to improve the state of knowledge in the field and to encourage practical training, education, and service projects.

THE JAMES M. COX, JR. INSTITUTE FOR NEWSPAPER MANAGEMENT STUDIES was created in 1990 with funding from the Jim Cox Jr. Fund of Atlanta to assist undergraduate and graduate students studying the management skills and journalistic techniques necessary for efficient, profitable and socially responsible operation of newspapers in today's complex society. The institute also funds research projects dealing with managerial and operational problems confronting newspaper strategists.

THE CURRICULUM MATERIALS CENTER (CMC), administered by the University Libraries and housed in the College of Education, provides a balanced and up-to-date collection of print and nonprint educational materials produced for use with children from preschool through grade twelve. Adult education is also included. The collection supports the instructional program of the College of Education, the methods and practicum courses in the education curriculum, and children's and young adult literature courses. Materials are provided for use by students, practitioners and researchers to compare educational objectives, teaching strategies and content. Services offered in the CMC include reference, circulation, and formal bibliographic instruction.

THE DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES PROGRAM (formerly the Georgia Retardation Center-Athens) is a joint federal, state, and university service that provides residential care and related service programs for children and youth with mental retardation and other developmental disabilities. The center is a branch of the Department of Human Resources, the unit responsible for administration of the center. The Developmental Disabilities Program (DDP) is a part of the Division for Exceptional Children in the College of Education. Faculty and staff work with the center to achieve interdisciplinary training, research, and dissemination in the area of developmental disabilities. The University Affiliated Program (UAP) is part of the College of Family and Consumer Sciences.

THE DOWDEN CENTER FOR TELECOMMUNICATION STUDIES, founded in the College of Journalism and Mass Communication with a donation from alumnus Thomas C. Dowden, operates as a think tank for cable television and related industries. It sponsors seminars and workshops that bring together scholars, practitioners, and informed commentators and conducts research into the impact on the industry of changing patterns of audience needs and preferences.

THE EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH LABORATORY is a service department of the College of Education established to provide the following kinds of services primarily, but not exclusively, for College of Education faculty and students: (a) data processing (optical scanning, data entry, computer programming), (b) research design consultation and, (c) statistical consultation. Contractual arrangements are also made with public and private agencies for the above services, including scoring and reporting the State of Georgia Criterion Reference Tests, Basic Skills Tests, and State Writing Assessment.

THE EXERCISE BIOCHEMISTRY LABORATORY is utilized for research by faculty, postdoctoral fellows, graduate students, and technical staff in Exercise Physiology in the Department of Physical Education for research into biochemical mechanisms underlying the physiological response to acute or chronic exercise. The two primary areas of research are in regulation of skeletal muscle blood flow during exercise, and cellular mechanisms responsible for exercise-induced skeletal muscle injury. The research is supported primarily by funding from the National Institutes of Health and the American Heart Association.

THE J.W. FANNING COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT CENTER has the development of effective community leadership as its primary purpose. Coordinating the university's teaching, research, and service opportunities, the center works with local chambers of commerce and other civic organizations to provide community leaders with opportunities for identifying local issues and building skills to enhance life in their communities.

THE FINANCIAL AND STUDENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS DEPARTMENTS provide computer-based information system services to designated administrative units of The University of Georgia. This service primarily involves maintenance of existing computer applications systems; modification and expansion of those systems to meet changing user requirements; assistance and/or training of user departments to obtain various ad hoc or short-term reports; development of new state-of-the-art user-oriented applications systems; data base planning; coordination and consultation; provision of data entry and control services; and microcomputer support to include applications development and micro-mainframe interface assistance. Hardware is jointly utilized with University Computing and Networking Services.

THE FITNESS CENTER operates as a laboratory experience for undergraduate and graduate students interested in adult fitness and cardiac rehabilitation. Various service programs are offered to the faculty, staff, students and community members which are designed to enhance their health and fitness. The programs include Adult Fitness for the apparently healthy adult with few risk factors; Senior Adult Fitness designed for seniors over the age of 55 years; and Cardiac Rehabilitation designed for those who have heart disease, have had surgery, a prior heart attack, or are at extremely high risk for heart disease. The Fitness Center also offers a complete health and fitness screening including a physician supervised treadmill stress test, computerized health risk analysis, skinfold determination of percent body fat, resting 12-lead ECG, pulmonary function, flexibility and muscular strength determinations.

THE GEORGIA CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION plans and implements educational programs in response to the diverse needs of adults throughout Georgia, the nation, and many foreign lands. These needs are expressed individually or through a range of governmental agencies, business and professional organizations, and civic, cultural, and educational groups. The center's staff works with university faculty, other experts, and clientele groups to extend the relevant resources of the University System to adult learners.

The center delivers a complex, comprehensive educational program through residential conferences and short courses; on-campus and off-campus programs for credit, non-credit, and certification; credit and non-credit audioconferences and teleconferences; independent study; mass media; and National Public Radio (WUGA-FM, 91.7). Other services include cooperative programming with other institutions of higher education; television and film production; print design and production; media library operations; and consultation and supportive services to organizations and agencies. (The center's food and lodging facilities may be reserved by alumni, students, parents, and others visiting the university for administrative and academic purposes.)

THE GEORGIA MUSEUM OF ART, founded by Alfred H. Holbrook, serves the university, the community, and the state. In recognition of the museum's statewide significance and growing national prominence, the Georgia General Assembly designated it the official State Museum of Art in 1982. The permanent collection of the museum now numbers over 5,000 works, with primary emphasis on 19th- and early 20th-century American art. Works in the collection and curatorial files are available for study by students and scholars. An active publications program includes a quarterly museum newsletter and catalogues for selected exhibitions organized by the museum. With one gallery devoted to selections from its permanent collection of American paintings, the museum also features major traveling exhibitions as well as temporary exhibitions of other works from its collections. Lectures, gallery talks, films, family days, and other events are scheduled to complement these exhibitions. The Museum Shop offers a variety of books, cards, and arts-related gifts.

THE GEORGIA REVIEW, winner of the 1986 National Magazine Award in Fiction, is an internationally known journal of arts and letters, published by the university since 1947. Its quarterly issues feature a blend of the best in contemporary thought and writing--essays, poetry, fiction, and book reviews--together with inviting art works. Accessible to the informed, nonspecialist reader, The Review appeals across disciplinary lines by drawing from a wide range of interests, including literature, history, philosophy, science, architecture, film, and the musical and visual arts.

THE HUMANITIES CENTER serves to promote and facilitate interdisciplinary research concerning conceptual and methodological issues prominent in the humanities. Among the issues considered by the center are both those which are at the theoretical core of all humanities scholarship and those which ask what contribution can the humanities make to critical contemporary questions about norms and values. The center pursues its objectives by offering faculty research fellowships, by organizing conferences and discussion groups, and by presenting lectures.

THE INSTITUTE FOR BEHAVIORAL RESEARCH is an interdisciplinary umbrella organization for the social and behavioral sciences on campus. Its constituent centers and research groups include the Center for Family Research, the Center for Research on Deviance and Behavioral Health, the Cognitive Studies group, and the Survey Research Center. The Institute facilitates high-quality, interdisciplinary research in the behavioral sciences by providing an atmosphere in which scholars from different disciplines from the university's various schools and colleges meet frequently to share information about ongoing research. The Journal of Personality and Social Psychology and the Journal of Linguistic Anthropology are edited here. And, the Institute administers a Faculty Research Mentoring Program for junior faculty in the social and behavioral sciences.

THE INSTITUTE FOR NATURAL PRODUCTS RESEARCH carries out a broad range of research on naturally occurring substances of plant origin, with particular attention to plant species of Georgia and the Southeast. Projects involve research on alkaloids, terpenes, antitumor agents, phytoalexins; the development of new synthetic methods; and the application of modern spectroscopic methods to structure elucidation problems. Research involves the isolation and elucidation of chemical structures of new compounds possibly useful as drugs for the treatment of human disease. The institute serves as a training center for visiting faculty and for postdoctorate and graduate students who are working in natural products research.

THE INSTITUTE OF COMMUNITY AND AREA DEVELOPMENT uses university and contractual resources to provide research, consultation and other services related to the management of growth and development of communities in Georgia with the objective of improving the quality of life of Georgia citizens. Faculty and staff from fifteen academic disciplines skilled in group process and strategic planning contribute to this mission through technical assistance, workshops, seminars, and specially designed research studies. ICAD publishes its findings and recommendations in monographs, reports, manuals, books, periodicals, and through audiovisual materials to aid all community developers and public policy officials at the local, regional, and state level. Among the topics included in ICAD's research and consultation are: community investment strategies; natural resource management; creative problem solving; recreation technical assistance; growth management; urban and regional planning; and human resource development.

THE INSTITUTE OF CONTINUING JUDICIAL EDUCATION OF GEORGIA, housed at The University of Georgia School of Law, plans and conducts more than 45 seminars each year for the basic professional development and continuing education of judges and other personnel of the Georgia court system. It supports participation by selected personnel of the judicial branch in programs conducted by national training agencies. This past year its programs reached more than 2,500 judges and court support personnel.

THE INSTITUTE OF CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION IN GEORGIA was organized in 1965 and is a consortium of the accredited law schools in Georgia and the State Bar of Georgia. Housed in the historic Joseph Henry Lumpkin House and A. G. Cleveland Building, the ICLE offers programs for the general practitioner as well as the specialist. The majority of the more than 90 live programs are presented in various locations around the state, and many are videotaped and replayed at sites around the state, as well as offered to local bar associations and firms for their use in offering continuing legal education. ICLE also co-sponsors with national CLE providers more than 30 live satellite programs a year. There were more than 17,000 attendees at ICLE's live, videotaped and satellite programs in the 1989-90 year. In addition to the live programs, the ICLE Print Shop prepared 91 publications during the last fiscal year and distributed more than 27,000 new and reprinted copies of Institute publications.

THE INSTITUTE OF ECOLOGY supports and encourages multidisciplinary research and service activities in ecology involving faculty and graduate students from a variety of departments, schools, and research sites. Besides laboratory facilities on campus in the Ecology Building, the institute also has excellent research facilities at the Savannah River Ecology Laboratory for the U.S. Department of Energy. Other field sites include the U.S. Forest Service Coweta Hydrologic Laboratory, Yellowstone National Park, Ogeechee River, Cumberland Island National Seashore, and Sapelo Island. The institute supports research in marine and freshwater ecology, thermal ecology, radiation ecology, population and community ecology, mineral cycling, tropical and temperate forests, old field dynamics, agroecosystems, granite outcrops, conservation ecology, and swamps. Its service program aids industry and government in making environmental assessments, teaches short courses in ecology, and provides other ecological services. The institute also operates a training program on ecological risk analysis for EPA.

THE INSTITUTE OF HIGHER EDUCATION provides numerous services and resources, including a doctoral program in higher education, for the professional development of college administrators and faculty members. The staff works with two- and four-year colleges on curriculum development, program evaluation, institutional research, leadership and management support skills, and overall administrative effectiveness. Under cooperative arrangements with other agencies and institutions, the institute contributes to the development and improvement of higher education throughout the state and the nation. Each year the Faculty Development in Georgia (FDIG) program provides opportunities for eleven faculty members in Georgia colleges, public and private, to continue their graduate education at The University of Georgia. The Institute cooperates with the University System of Georgia in its Regents Administrative Development Program, and with other educational agencies and organizations in research, assessment, and evaluation projects and in the development of public policy for education beyond high school.

THE INSTITUTE OF NATURAL RESOURCES is an interdisciplinary unit designed to synthesize relevant aspects of the biological, physical, and social sciences, law and the humanities to solve complex natural resource management problems. The institute's faculty conduct research and coordinate university programs and activities pertaining to development, use, and management of fish, wildlife, forest, water, land, and energy resources. Research is focused on applications of science to issues affecting natural resource management and policy analyses. The institute maintains the Office of State Climatologist and a program in Natural Resources Management. It cooperates closely with other units of the University System of Georgia and, upon request, acts in an advisory capacity to government and private organizations on matters relating to natural resources.

THE LEARNING DISABILITIES ADULT CLINIC provides diagnostic assessment, counseling, academic therapy, and assistance to University of Georgia students demonstrating specific learning disabilities. Faculty and administration consultation relevant to serving the learning disabled in the academic setting is also a service of the clinic.

THE LEGAL AID CLINIC is operated by The University of Georgia School of Law and is under contract with Clarke and Oconee Counties and the City of Athens. The Clinic provides legal representation to indigents in criminal cases only. Attorneys from the clinic appear in all courts in both counties where criminal matters are considered (excluding probate court in Oconee County) and are assisted in their work by second and third year law students.

THE MARINE SCIENCES PROGRAM, established by the university in 1976, is responsible for the coordination and general management of the Marine Institute, Marine Extension Service, Marine Sciences Faculty, and the Georgia Sea Grant College Program.

The Marine Institute, located on Sapelo Island, was established in 1953 to serve as a research facility for resident staff and for campus-based faculty members. Research has centered mainly on basic marsh ecology to provide an understanding of energy flow, cycling of minerals and nutrients through the marshes and nearby ocean, and factors regulating the metabolism of the salt marsh ecosystem.

The Marine Extension Service helps to solve problems related to the state's marine resources. The Marine Resources Center on Skidaway Island is the major marine education facility for schools and colleges in the state. At the Brunswick Extension Station, specialists work directly with the fishing and seafood processing industry to increase its efficiency and effectiveness and to develop new industries.

The Georgia Sea Grant College Program, part of the National Sea Grant College Program, was established in 1971. In an approach roughly analogous to that of the Land Grant System in working with agriculture, Sea Grant promotes the wise use of marine resources through a coordinated program of research, education, and advisory services. Sustained excellence in all three areas of activity earned Sea Grant College status for the university in 1980, when it became the fifteenth institution in the nation to attain that rank. In 1990, the Sea Grant College status of the university was reaffirmed by the National Sea Grant College Program.

THE MCPHAUL CHILD AND FAMILY DEVELOPMENT CENTER provides developmentally appropriate programs on a half-day basis for both university and community families with children 6 months to 5 years; a full day program for university affiliated families with children 2½-5 years; and a Head Start program for children 3-5 years. Children with special needs are provided mainstreamed classroom experience through Project CEEI (Continuum for Environments for Early Intervention). The purpose of the center's programs are: 1) to provide training opportunities for university students in the Department of Child and Family Development to observe and interact with young children and their families; 2) to conduct research on the development of children and families and ways to optimize their development; and 3) to directly provide a quality developmental program for young children and to channel other resources of the College of Family and Consumer Sciences to families.

THE MCPHAUL MARRIAGE AND FAMILY THERAPY CLINIC serves university students and faculty as well as the Athens-Clarke County area. A part of the marriage and family therapy doctoral program in the Department of Child and Family Development, one of eight doctoral programs nationally accredited by the American Association for Marital and Family Therapy (AAMFT), McPhaul MFT clinic offers individual, couple and family therapy for a variety of problems and issues. Therapists are all doctoral level students supervised by AAMFT approved clinical faculty and licensed marriage and family therapists. Clinical research is also conducted at McPhaul. Fees for services at McPhaul are on a sliding fee schedule and arrangements can be made for all financial situations.

THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS has as its objective to develop quality vocational instructional materials. The staff develops and produces various types of materials in several areas, including performance-based teacher education, computer software, vocational resources, and competency-based administrator education. This institute operates as the American Association for Vocational Instructional Materials on an international basis and is so incorporated in the state of Georgia.

THE NORTHEAST GEORGIA EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY CENTER (EOC) is a community-based program funded by the U. S. Department of Education and administered by The University of Georgia. The purpose of the program is to encourage and assist mainly adults to enroll in some form of postsecondary education. At least two-thirds of EOC participants are both low-income and first-generation college students. Through its professional counseling staff, the EOC serves a 13-county area that includes the counties of Barrow, Clarke, Elbert, Greene, Hancock, Jackson, Madison, Morgan, Oconee, Oglethorpe, Taliaferro, Walton, and Warren. Direct services include computer-based school/admissions assistance; personal, career, and financial aid counseling; admissions and financial aid applications assistance; campus visitations to colleges and universities, vocational and technical schools, and training programs; career development workshops and seminars; and tutorial services for general academic skill development for currently enrolled participants and persons preparing for the GED, SAT, ACT, and technical school entrance examinations.

THE OFFICE OF CAMPUS PLANNING assists the university administration in planning the physical development of The University of Georgia and its related agencies. It plans, coordinates, and implements construction projects both on and off campus and serves as liaison agent between the university and the Board of Regents Office of Facilities. More specifically, this office helps departments conceptualize proposed projects and assists in site determination, selection of architects and engineers, preparation of detailed project programs, coordination of preliminary and final plans, administration of construction, and development of master plans.

THE OFFICE OF DEVELOPMENT AND UNIVERSITY RELATIONS is responsible for the planning, coordination, and conduct of all programs involving fund raising, institutional public information, and alumni activities and events. The Office of the Vice President embraces five functional areas. The Development Office is concerned with all aspects of fund raising for the university and works closely with the schools, colleges and other academic units, and their alumni constituents and friends. The Office of Alumni Relations works with the Alumni Society and school and college groups to conduct year-round programs involving alumni and friends throughout the United States and in several foreign countries. The Office of Donor Relations coordinates stewardship activities and donor recognition events in support of university institutional advancement goals. The Office of Donor Research and Alumni/Development Services provides support services in gifts receiving, alumni records, and electronic data processing. The Office of Public Information is the university's news and publicity outlet with a news service, a broadcast staff, and a publications unit.

THE OFFICE OF INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH AND PLANNING has as a primary responsibility the collection, organization, and analysis of data to serve all aspects of the operation and management of the university. In addition to student, faculty, staff and space utilization analyses, this unit conducts studies related to projected needs, program objectives, and efficiency and effectiveness in the use of institutional resources.

THE OFFICE OF INSTRUCTIONAL DEVELOPMENT, a unit of Academic Affairs, coordinates campus-wide services for instructional improvement and faculty development. The office is advised by the Instructional Advisory Committee, comprised of representatives appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs from all the university's colleges and schools and from services and student affairs. The OID administers the Lilly Teaching Fellows Program, the Sarah Moss Fellowships, the Senior Teaching Fellows Program, the Teaching Assistants Mentoring Program, the Teaching Improvement Program (TIPS) for new faculty, the colloquium for new faculty, the Teaching Assistants Workshop, and an awards program for teaching assistants. This office provides instructional improvement grants to faculty wishing to develop new approaches to teaching and helps faculty locate and obtain external funds for instruction. It also provides consultation for faculty and department heads who seek assistance with any aspect of teaching, including computer-assisted instruction. Other university-wide activities, such as regular noon seminars, conferences, and various faculty development activities are listed in the quarterly OID publication Teaching at UGA. Services, including a handbook, a quarterly GTA newsletter, and a special course on college teaching, are available to graduate teaching assistants.

The Instructional Resources Center (IRC), a major unit within the OID, provides the following media equipment and materials for staff use: a media library of films, slides, and audio and video tapes, as well as audiovisual and television equipment for loan; black-and-white copy services; audio and videotape duplication; passport photos; photographic services; materials for instruction, including slide tape presentations, graphic aids, and videotape segments. IRC also operates a closed-circuit television system limited to the Journalism Building, with a color television studio and a color mobile production unit to provide the university with capabilities of recording events on campus and original programs for classroom use. Though IRC was created to serve the instructional needs of the university, services are available to all units on a charge basis.

The Bioscience Learning Center (BLC), also administered by the OID, provides assistance at all levels of bioscience education in addition to supporting other instructional needs across campus. Located in the Biological Sciences Building, the center contains 22 audiovisual carrels and 24 Apple and IBM microcomputers.

THE OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT serves to provide opportunities for faculty to participate in collaborative research relationships with colleagues and be involved in developmental programs and technology transfer in other countries; to add international content to academic course offerings so students are better prepared to function in a rapidly changing world; to help faculty and students to learn about and appreciate other cultures; to encourage a broader understanding of the interdependence of our world; and to help people better understand that our actions have worldwide consequences in terms of environmental responsibility, human relationship and human resource and economic development. The services of the office incorporate and permeate all facets of the public service, teaching and research functions of the university.

THE OFFICE OF SPECIAL ACADEMIC PROGRAMS devises and implements innovative techniques to identify, contact, and recruit superior students, at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Included in these efforts are any programs or activities which might ultimately, positively enhance the respect and acceptance of The University of Georgia by outstanding students.

The three main programs of the office are the Georgia Science and Engineering Fair, the regional-state and national History Day Program and the eight institutes for Teachers of Advanced Placement courses. The office also contributes time and effort in support of the Governor's Honors Program for gifted high school students, the National History Day Program, the university's undergraduate admissions' office, the International Science and Engineering Fair, the Sunbelt Agricultural Exposition, and a workshop program for the state science and math teachers.

THE POULTRY DISEASE RESEARCH CENTER carries out basic and applied research programs on the diseases which are of economic importance to the poultry industry of Georgia. Diagnostic, laboratory, and consultative services are provided to individuals and groups in all phases of poultry production.

THE PSYCHOLOGY CLINIC is an independent community mental health facility operated by the Clinical Training Program of the Department of Psychology at The University of Georgia. The clinic seeks to provide specialized psychological services to the community and to serve as a training facility for the Clinical Psychology program. Quality Services are provided to faculty, staff, and students as well as to the surrounding community on a sliding scale basis. The Psychology Clinic offers a wide range of treatment and assessment services to meet the varied psychological needs of the people in the northeast Georgia area. Psychotherapy is available for depression, anxiety, marital and family problems, chronic pain, and other problem areas. All initial contacts are free of charge.

THE PUBLIC SAFETY DIVISION administers educational and community service programs which address the hazards to life and property stemming from the activities of the university community. Crime prevention and control, as well as traffic analyses, accident prevention, and pedestrian safety programs, are carried out by The University of Georgia Police Department headed by a chief of police and staffed by 55 sworn police officers with full peace officer authority. The UGA Police Department personnel also conduct the Northeast Georgia Police Academy, an educational program to provide basic, in-service, and advanced/specialized training for city, county, and state law enforcement agencies in twenty-four counties of northeast Georgia.

In addition to its public safety purpose, the Division maintains the Environmental Safety Services Department which strives to ensure through plan review, environmental surveillance, training, hazardous chemical material management, and hazardous chemical spill response, and assists in areas of fire protection, radiation safety, hazardous materials management and disposal, laboratory safety, occupational safety (accident prevention), environmental health (public health and sanitation), and safety and hazard training (Employee Right to Know).

To achieve a safer campus community, the Division's special departments, programs, and services include: A Hazardous Materials Treatment Facility for proper disposal of hazardous materials generated principally in research activities; the management and enforcement of the university's broad license for radioisotopes; an active lab safety program; the Occupational Health and Safety Program to reduce on-campus accidents and injuries through accident investigation and follow-up; asbestos abatement; the Environmental Health Program to ensure compliance of university-owned food establishments with sanitation regulations; a comprehensive Right-to-Know Program managed by the Environmental Safety Services Department; a university Fire Safety Officer to work with university officials to improve the status of fire safety in university facilities; and a team composed of various program officers to coordinate and manage any major hazardous chemical spills on campus.

THE RAMSEY CENTER FOR PRIVATE ENTERPRISE has as its major mission the furtherance of understanding of the principles of private enterprise. The center engages in research studies that demonstrate the benefits of economic decisions made in a competitive environment and in teaching undergraduate and graduate students the principles of private enterprise, the theoretical underpinnings of market economies, and other appropriate subjects. In addition to its teaching and research functions, the center also carries on an active service program involving public lectures and seminars dealing with the private enterprise system.

THE DEAN RUSK CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW was founded in 1977 as part of the School of Law to improve the effectiveness of relations among citizens, private sector entities, and government at the local, state, federal, and international levels. Using advanced electronic information-processing techniques, the center's professional staff and part-time researchers mobilize university, business, and governmental resources to develop theoretical and practical approaches to improve the efficiency of governance, trade, and investment. On occasion the center also helps implement the approaches by providing the private and public sectors with essential manpower and information. In the past the Dean Rusk Center has developed several major initiatives for federal action concerning North American cooperation and overseas trade regulation and representation. It has also analyzed new approaches for expanding Georgia agricultural exports. The center publishes research reports, holds conferences, and sponsors research for Georgia citizens that cover fiscal and monetary policy, international arrangements, and domestic affairs.

THE SIMON S. SELIG, JR. CENTER FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH serves the state by conducting research projects on problems of economic growth and development in Georgia and the Southeast. It provides a current collection of business and economic reference materials and offers editorial, administrative and financial support to faculty engaged in business and economic research.

The Selig Center publishes Georgia Business and Economic Conditions, a bi-monthly magazine composed of research papers and business and economic statistics; The Georgia Statistical Abstract; monographs on the Georgia economy; and a working paper series of faculty research. Recent additions to the center's publications include an annual Georgia Economic Outlook, which highlights the state's economic forecast, and the monthly series of "Leading and Coincident Economic Indicators."

THE SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER, established in 1977, is an innovative, university-based extension effort which provides management and technical assistance to small businesses and prospective entrepreneurs. The SBDC offers its services through its statewide network of district centers. Supported by the University System of Georgia and the U.S. Small Business Administration, the SBDC provides free consulting services, continuing education programs at minimal cost, and business research.

Special SBDC units are involved with other business-related activities including: producing studies on local economic development; collecting and disseminating business data nationally; assisting new startup businesses by providing centralized office space and services; promoting international trade among small- and medium-sized Georgia firms, advocating minority entrepreneurship and promoting the SBDC's basic services to the minority community; expanding small business development and retention in rural communities; and promoting the transfer of university-developed research technology into products and services for the consumer.

THE SPEECH AND HEARING CLINIC of the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders provides comprehensive evaluation and therapy for individuals of all ages with speech, language or hearing problems. Individuals may refer themselves or their children to the clinic or may be referred by other professionals such as physicians or teachers. The clinic also sponsors a support group for hearing-impaired university students and a summer preschool for hearing impaired children.

THE STATE BOTANICAL GARDEN OF GEORGIA is a public, non-profit, educational facility under the auspices of The University of Georgia. Its mission is to foster appreciation, understanding, and stewardship of plants and nature through research, collections and displays, horticultural gardens, and educational programs. The Garden is located at 2450 South Milledge Avenue, one mile south of the Athens South Bypass (U. S. 129/441). Founded in 1968, the Garden now encompasses over 300 acres, much of which borders the Middle Oconee River. The Garden features a number of specialty gardens and collections plus five miles of nature trails. The Visitor Center/Conservatory features a permanent display of tropical and semitropical plants along with classrooms, offices, a gift shop and a cafe which serves lunch daily. The Garden is open daily from 8:00 a.m. to dusk. The Visitor Center/Conservatory is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Sundays from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., excepting certain holidays.

THE SURVEY RESEARCH CENTER, a unit of the Institute for Behavioral Research, serves the data collection and analysis needs of the university and the larger community. The Center's services encompass all aspects of the design and implementation of survey research projects and includes sampling and measurement; data collection and coding; data management and analysis; and report preparation and interpretation. These combined services are available for the execution of complete studies, or any single service or combination of services can also be contracted. In addition, the Center is able to provide clients with the latest development in survey interviewing methodologies, computer-assisted telephone interviewing (CATI), substantially shortening the time required for data collection and analysis. Also, in the fall and spring of each year, the Center conducts the Georgia Poll, a regular omnibus survey of the state's population. Individuals unable to justify purchasing an independent survey may subscribe to a particular poll by purchasing a question or series of questions of their choice. Results for each subscriber are reported along with a battery of standard socio-demographic indices of background attributes.

THE TORRANCE CENTER FOR CREATIVE STUDIES, a unit in the Department of Educational Psychology, is a research and instructional center concerned with the identification and development of creative potential. The center accomplishes its purpose by developing, implementing, and evaluating projects at the local, national, and international levels. Programs sponsored by the Torrance Center include the Challenge Programs, the Georgia Future Problem Solving Program, the Creative Scholars Program, and the E. Paul Torrance Lecture. The center maintains the Torrance Library and Archives, a collection of information on creativity, gifted education, and future studies.

THE UNIVERSITY AFFILIATED PROGRAM FOR PERSONS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES (UAP), funded by the U.S. Administration on Developmental Disabilities and other federal and state agencies, is responsible for interdisciplinary training of university graduate and undergraduate students, state and national dissemination of information, technical assistance, and provision of exemplary service programs directly related to persons with developmental disabilities and their families. Administered by the College of Family and Consumer Sciences, the Georgia UAP includes faculty in four schools/colleges on campus, as well as at the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta. Demonstration service projects include a mainstreamed preschool program, a family support project, and an arts/physical fitness program for elderly persons with developmental disabilities. The Georgia UAP operates Project STARS, a national clearinghouse for media related to developmental disabilities.

THE UNIVERSITY COMPUTING AND NETWORKING SERVICES (UCNS) is responsible for operating and supporting the major campus computing and data communication facilities. General purpose computing resources include an IBM 3090/400 system with two vector processors, a CDC Cyber 960 system and several DEC VAX systems. High performance computing services are provided by a CDC Cyber 205 vector processing system. Among the special purpose systems supported by the UCNS is an LMI multi-processor ai engine. A variety of graphics workstations is also available to support research computing activities. Open-access microcomputer and timesharing terminal facilities are operated by the UCNS in eighteen locations on campus. Local network services are provided through a broadband data and video trunk distribution system interconnecting almost all campus buildings. National and international data communications networks available include SURANET, BITNET, CSNET and gateway access to NSFNET, INTERNET and other regional research networks.

Software provided by the UCNS includes a variety of application and utility programs, including language translators, graphics programs, statistical aids, data management utilities and report generators, text formatters, and simulation and optimization tools. Standard word processing, spreadsheet, data management, graphics, and communications software are provided in the open-access microcomputer facilities. In addition, the UCNS distributes a number of popular microcomputer software products to faculty, staff, and students at reduced prices through site license arrangements with developers. Instructional computing services are provided through the MUSIC system, a student computing environment providing access to programming languages, statistical analysis software, text formatting tools, and electronic mail services, and through NovaNet, a computer-based education system with over 8,000 lessons in more than 100 subject areas.

To complement the hardware and software provided to the campus, extensive support services are offered through the Client Services division of UCNS. Technical assistance, consulting services, training seminars, and reference documentation are provided in the areas of: general purpose computing systems; microcomputer systems; high performance systems; specialized computing areas of computational chemistry, computational biology, and artificial intelligence; computer graphics and visualization; Unix and DEC VMS-based systems; departmental and workgroup networking; and hardware and software acquisition.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA GERONTOLOGY CENTER is charged to coordinate and promote university activities relating to aging. The center's primary responsibilities are to coordinate graduate training and research, including a graduate level certificate program in gerontology, and to promote faculty development in gerontology. Approximately 42 faculty members from 24 different academic departments are associated with the Gerontology Center and oversee pre- and postdoctoral training, as well as the application of knowledge to practice. The center, through its associated faculty, currently supports four research foci: 1) the oldest-old; 2) cognition in normal aging and disease; 3) applied gerontology; and 4) demography. Research grants from NIA, NIMH, AARP, and other foundations support these activities. The center also maintains two research consortia: 1) the Georgia Consortium on the Psychology of Aging which consists of universities within the state of Georgia, and 2) the Research Consortium on Economic and Demographic Development of the Deep South with participating universities from South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama. The Gerontology Center regularly sponsors conferences and speakers on a broad range of topics at the national, regional and local level.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA LIBRARIES are composed of three major on-campus libraries--the Main Library, Science Library and Law Library, which is administered by the School of Law. There are several small collections such as those at the Curriculum Materials Center (Education), the Georgia Center for Continuing Education Library, the Veterinary Medicine reading room, and various lab collections. The UGA Libraries' system also includes libraries at the experiment stations in Griffin and Tifton, and the marine stations at Sapelo and Skidaway.

The UGA Library is the largest library in the state of Georgia. It is a member of the prestigious Association of Research Libraries consisting of the largest research libraries in North America, and ranks in the top twenty-five of these libraries.

The Libraries contain about 2.9 million books, serials, and documents, and many other items including manuscripts, photographs, drawings, music scores, audio/video materials, and newspapers. The map collection incorporates over 330,000 items and the microform collection numbers more than 4 million. The collections support the instructional, research, and public service activities of the university and are available to library users both on the campus and across the state.

An outstanding feature of the Main Library is the Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library, a repository of rare and priceless relics. Among the special collections are the works and memorabilia of Erskine Caldwell and Margaret Mitchell, the original Confederate Constitution, Confederate imprints, a notable Georgiana collection, many Southern historical manuscripts, and the sheet music of many well-known musicians.

The Richard B. Russell Memorial Library, an annex to the Main Library, houses the papers and memorabilia of the late Senator Russell, as well as the papers of former Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Senator Herman E. Talmadge, and many other elected officials and government appointees.

More than 387,000 volumes are housed in the University's Law Library. Its collection of British Commonwealth materials is considered one of the finest of its kind in the nation.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY, which contains the most extensive collection of Georgia natural history artifacts and specimens, is one of the largest natural history museums in the Southeast. It ranks within the top 70 in the nation in terms of the size of its collections and the scope of its research and technical service programs. The museum comprises eight separate collection areas: Archaeology Collection (3.5 million artifacts), Botany Herbarium (195,000 plant specimens), Entomology Collections (500,000+ pinned insects, 100,000 alcohol-preserved insects, and the world's largest collection of ectoparasitic feather mites--over 6,000,000), Geology Collections (10,000 economic geology ore specimens, 10,000 mineral specimens and 10,000 invertebrate and vertebrate fossils), Julian H. Miller Mycological Herbarium (25,000 fungi), Plant Microfossil Laboratory (a worldwide collection of fossil pollen samples), Zooarchaeology Collection (3,200 comparative reference skeletons), and Zoological Collections (250,000 vertebrates, 10,000 invertebrates and 5,000 corals).

The Museum's collections are crucial to quality education in over 30 specialized graduate and undergraduate courses in the natural sciences at the university. Moreover, the educational role of the Museum extends well beyond the campus. Each year the Museum provides loans of educational materials and access to its collections to other institutions and individuals within the University System, regional primary and secondary schools and various state agencies. Also, through specialized educational programs, lecture series, and short courses, the Museum reaches thousands of individuals and groups throughout Georgia each year.

While the Museum of Natural History is primarily a regional research facility relating to Georgia and the Southeast, the scope of its operations are national and international. As a repository of the definitive collections of Georgia's historical, cultural, and natural heritage, the Museum's collections provide the essential research resources and data bases for hundreds of researchers nationwide. Each year the collections process hundreds of loans of artifacts, specimens, and records to other museums and scientists throughout the nation.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA PRESS was founded in 1938 as the publishing arm of The University of Georgia. Its primary mission is to support and enhance the university's place as a major research institution by publishing significant works of scholarship by national and international scholars as well as its own faculty. Since its founding the Press has published over a thousand new titles, more than seven hundred of which remain in print. Seventy-nine new titles were issued in 1989-90.

The Press has more than doubled its publishing program over the past decade. While remaining essentially scholarly in nature and retaining its traditional editorial focus on history and literature, the list has expanded to include works of fiction, creative nonfiction, poetry, and literature in translation. During this same period the Press has also published a significant number of more general works of interest and utility to the citizenry of the state and the region.

In recent years the Press has built on earlier strengths to become national and international in scope and recognition. During fiscal year 1988-89 an unprecedented number of Georgia Press books were honored for editorial achievement and design and production excellence. This recognition culminated in November 1988 when the Press was awarded the grand prize for overall excellence in the Boston Globe Literary Press Competition. The University of Georgia Press is now one of the preeminent university presses in the South and among the most competitive mid-size presses in the nation.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC. (UGARF) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Georgia as a nonprofit corporation on November 17, 1978. In a Memorandum of Understanding dated February 26, 1979, the Board of Regents of The University System of Georgia authorized UGARF to serve as the official grantee for all contracts, grants, and gifts for the conduct of sponsored research at The University of Georgia. External research grants and contracts are awarded to The University of Georgia faculty through The University of Georgia Research Foundation, Inc. Other research activities are supported by UGARF through a number of special programs, i.e., Faculty Research Grants, Foreign Travel Grants, and Creative Research Awards.

UGARF was also organized to assist in the transfer of technology developed through the university's research programs or by university personnel to the benefit of The University of Georgia and the general public; UGARF is the university's invention administration organization. Its ongoing objective is to provide services to the university and through those services to enhance the university's programs and goals as a research institution.

THE VETERINARY MEDICAL DIAGNOSTIC AND INVESTIGATIONAL LABORATORIES at Athens and Tifton process over 100,000 requests for assistance each year. The laboratories are staffed and equipped to provide diagnostic service to the Georgia Department of Agriculture, Georgia livestock industry and animal owners of Georgia through a policy of referral by practicing veterinarians.

THE VETERINARY MEDICAL EXPERIMENT STATION coordinates and conducts research on disease problems of food- and fiber-producing animals, including poultry, and of companion animals. The research programs, which have applied, basic and comparative medical orientation, are divided broadly into four main categories: infectious diseases, noninfectious diseases, diagnostic techniques, and therapeutic procedures. Research facilities are located within the College of Veterinary Medicine at Athens, in the Poultry Disease Research Center at Athens, and in the Veterinary Diagnostic Assistance Laboratories at Athens and Tifton. Opportunities for graduate training in the biomedical sciences are provided by the station's research programs.

THE MARILYN VINCENT MOTOR LEARNING LABORATORY was organized to conduct original research on motor behavior and to provide instructional activities for students studying motor behavior. The goals of the research program of the laboratory are both to contribute to theory about the acquisition of motor skills and to apply theory to instructional design. The laboratory is staffed by PH.D. students in motor behavior.

THE CARL VINSON INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT is dedicated to improving the understanding, policy-making, and administration of government, and particularly of state and local government in Georgia. To accomplish its purposes, the Vinson Institute conducts a variety of continuing education programs for state and local officials, engages in an extensive research and publications program, offers technical assistance to public officials, and provides educational opportunities for public school teachers and others to improve the level of understanding about the structure and processes of government at all levels. Its various services are conducted through four divisions: Governmental Training, Governmental Research and Services, Human Services, and Citizen Education. The Institute also cooperates with the Department of Political Science in offering the Master of Public Administration degree.
