(CDS I-1). Please report number of instructional faculty members in each category for Fall 2011. Include faculty who are on your institution's payroll on the census date your institution uses for IPEDS/AAUP. Fall 2010 data is provided for your reference.

The following definition of full-time instructional faculty is used by the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) in its annual Faculty Compensation Survey (the part-time definitions are not used by AAUP). Instructional faculty is defined as those members of the instructional-research staff whose major regular assignment is instruction, including those with released time for research. Use the chart below to determine inclusions and exclusions:

	Full-time	Part-time
(a) instructional faculty in preclinical and clinical medicine, faculty who are not paid (e.g., those who donate their services or are in the military), or research-only faculty, post-doctoral fellows, or pre-doctoral fellows	Exclude	Include only if they teach one or more non-clinical credit courses
(b) administrative officers with titles such as dean of students, librarian, registrar, coach, and the like, even though they may devote part of their time to classroom instruction and may have faculty status	Exclude	Include if they teach one or more non-clinical credit courses
(c) other administrators/staff who teach one or more non-clinical credit courses even though they do not have faculty status	Exclude	Include
(d) undergraduate or graduate students who assist in the instruction of courses, but have titles such as teaching assistant, teaching fellow, and the like	Exclude	Exclude
(e) faculty on sabbatical or leave with pay	Include	Exclude
(f) faculty on leave without pay	Exclude	Exclude
(g) replacement faculty for faculty on sabbatical leave or leave with pay	Exclude	Include

Full-time instructional faculty employed on a full-time basis for instruction (including those with released time for research)

Part-time instructional faculty: Adjuncts and other instructors being paid solely for part-time classroom instruction.

Also includes full-time faculty teaching less than two semesters, three quarters, two trimesters, or two four-month sessions. Employees who are not considered full-time instructional faculty but who teach one or more non-clinical credit courses may be counted as part-time faculty.

Minority faculty: includes faculty who designate themselves as Black or African American; American Indian or Alaska Native; Asian; Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander; Two or more races; or Hispanic.

Doctorate: includes such degrees as Doctor of Education, Doctor of Juridical Science, Doctor of Public Health, and Doctor of Philosophy in any field such as arts, services, education, engineering, business, or public administration. Also includes terminal degrees formerly designated as "first-professional," including dentistry (DDS or DMD), medicine (MD), optometry (OD), osteopathic medicine (DO), pharmacy (DPharm or BPharm), podiatric medicine (DPM), veterinary medicine (DVM), chiropractic (DC or DCM), law (JD).

Terminal Master's degree: a master's degree that is considered the highest degree in a field: example, M. Arch (architecture) and MFA (master of fine arts in art or theatre).

Student to Faculty Ratio: (CDS I-2) Report the Fall 2011 ratio of full-time equivalent students (full-time plus 1/3 part time) to full-time equivalent instructional faculty (full time plus 1/3 part time). In the ratio calculations, exclude both faculty and students in stand-alone graduate or professional programs such as medicine, law, veterinary, dentistry, social work, business, or public health in which faculty teach virtually only graduate level students. Do not count undergraduate or graduate student teaching assistants as faculty.

319 . Fall 2011 student to faculty ratio: 18.2 to 1 (based on 30916 students and 1697 faculty)

320 . Fall 2010 student to faculty ratio (provided for your reference): 18.8 to 1

Undergraduate Class Size (CDS I-3): In the table below, please use the following definitions to report information about the size of classes and class sections offered in the Fall 2011 term. Fall 2010 data provided for your reference.

Class Sections: A class section is an organized course offered for credit, identified by discipline and number, meeting at a stated time or times in a classroom or similar setting, and not a subsection such as a laboratory or discussion session. Undergraduate class sections are defined as any sections in which at least one degree-seeking undergraduate student is enrolled for credit. Exclude distance learning classes and noncredit classes and individual instruction such as dissertation or thesis research, music instruction, or one-to-one readings. Exclude students in independent study, co-operative programs, internships, foreign language taped tutor sessions, practicums, and all students in one-on-one classes. Each class section should be counted only once and should not be duplicated because of course catalog cross-listings.

Class Subsections: A class subsection includes any subsection of a course, such as laboratory, recitation, and discussion subsections that are supplementary in nature and are scheduled to meet separately from the lecture portion of the course. Undergraduate subsections are defined as any subsections of courses in which degree-seeking undergraduate students enrolled for credit. As above, exclude noncredit classes and individual instruction such as dissertation or thesis research, music instruction, or one-to-one readings. Each class subsection should be counted only once and should not be duplicated because of cross-listings.

Using the above definitions: Please report for each of the following class-size intervals the number of class sections and class subsections offered in Fall 2011. For example, a lecture class with 800 students who met at another time in 40 separate labs with 20 students should be counted once in the "100+" column in the class section column and 40 times under the "20-29" column of the class subsections table.

327 . Unique Qualities during the 2011-2012 academic year.

As part of each entry in a directory of colleges and universities, U.S. News would like to feature a brief description of the school's mission and unique qualities. Please provide a summary of what makes your school special. What are its strengths and attributes? Maximum number of allowable characters is 4000. Please do not include bullets, paragraph breaks, special characters, or other special formatting.

Established by a charter adopted by the Georgia Legislature in 1785, the University of Georgia is the first university in America to be chartered by a state government. The principles embodied in its charter 'that education is the foundation of a democratic society and a right of all citizens, and that providing education is the responsibility of government' helped give rise to the American system of public higher education. UGA's picturesque 759-acre campus, in the Appalachian foothills about 70 miles northeast of Atlanta, is adorned with many 19th century buildings including Old College, opened in 1806, and the 1832 University Chapel. North Campus, featuring quads with century-old trees and scenic green spaces, is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Other notable campus features include bike paths, quiet gardens, one of the nation's largest student recreation/fitness centers and one of the oldest cemeteries on an American university campus (dating to 1814). UGA is Georgia's most popular college (17,569 applications for the 2011 freshman class) and has one of the nation's largest and oldest Honors Programs, attracting superior students from across the country. UGA is a national leader among public universities in the number of major scholarships earned by its students. The university has had seven Rhodes Scholars since 1996. In the same period, UGA students have won 37 Goldwater Scholarships and 10 Truman Scholarships. In 2008, UGA was the only public university in America with two Rhodes Scholars. In 2003, UGA scored a "grand slam," being the only public university in America with winners of the Rhodes, Marshall, Truman and Goldwater Scholarships in the same year. The student satisfaction rate is high with 94 percent of freshmen returning as sophomores. Georgia's HOPE Scholarship keeps in-state student costs among the lowest at major public universities, and UGA ranks in the top 10 among research universities in the number of students who study abroad each year. Long a research leader in such fields as agriculture, biology and biotechnology, UGA is rapidly building strength in human and animal health and biomedicine with its College of Public Health, Biomedical and Health Sciences Institute and Cancer Center. A physician education program developed jointly by UGA and Georgia Health Sciences University began in 2010 and will help offset a severe shortage of doctors in Georgia. A new, 58-acre Health Sciences Campus will house the Medical Partnership, College of Public Health and other health-related programs. The Eugene P. Odum School of Ecology, opened in 2007, is the nation's only stand-alone school devoted to ecological studies and research. UGA's Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication is home to the prestigious Peabody Awards, the world's oldest prize in electronic media. In addition, the Peabody Archives in the Richard B. Russell Special Collections Library contain some of the best radio, television and cable programs ever produced. UGA is home of Georgia's official state botanical garden, state art museum and state museum of natural history, as well as the Georgia Writers Hall of Fame.

POPULAR

MAJORS (CDS J) The first table below lists the most popular majors for 2010 graduates as reported to U.S. News during 2011. In the second table below for 2011 Graduates, identify the five majors with the largest percent of bachelor's degrees conferred between July 1, 2010 and June 30, 2011 from your institution by entering the CIP 2010 code next to the name. Then list the percent of students graduating with degrees in those fields. Please visit this link: CIP 2010 codes and check it carefully before entering data. Only five majors can be entered. U.S. News will only accept CIP 2010 codes for questions 328, 329 and 330. For more information on CIP 2010, visit: <http://nces.ed.gov/cipcode/default.aspx?y=55>

Note: When reporting majors in Question 329 below, please do not list majors in conjunction with a concentration, emphasis, minor, or subject area. Concentrations, etc., may be reported in question 330.

These two questions use the CIP 2010.

Under the box titled "Majors Available", please click on a subject to highlight the Major category. This will open another box directly below which lists the sub-categories of majors (CIP code numbers with up to 4 digits to the right of the decimal place). The sub-categories are arranged by ascending CIP code number. Highlight a major offered by clicking on it (you may click and drag your mouse to highlight multiple selections). Then, click on the button in the middle column with the arrow pointing to the right. Clicking on this button moves the CIP code number of your selection into the right column titled "Majors Offered". To undo a selection, highlight the CIP code number in the "Majors Offered" column and click on the button with the arrow pointing to the left. There is no limit on the number of majors that can be stored in the "Majors Offered" column. The HTML file will only display the CIP code, not its name. U.S. News will only accept CIP 2010—same as above, for more information on CIP 2010 visit: <http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/cipcode/default.aspx?y=55>

Program has separate admissions process and charges fees. Services go well beyond those that are legally mandated and the student is provided with a more structured environment. Low staff/student ratios. Compulsory student attendance. An advisor/advocate is made available to students.

Self-directed/decentralized services

There is no separate admissions process and eligibility for services must be established by the provision of disability documentation that meets institutional standards. Services may be coordinated through the Disability Services office and are based on need as specified by the documentation. Other offices throughout the campus may also provide services and some services offered are not mandated by laws. Students' progress is not monitored.
